In Loving Memory

Dr. Peter Mark Becker
1941-1998

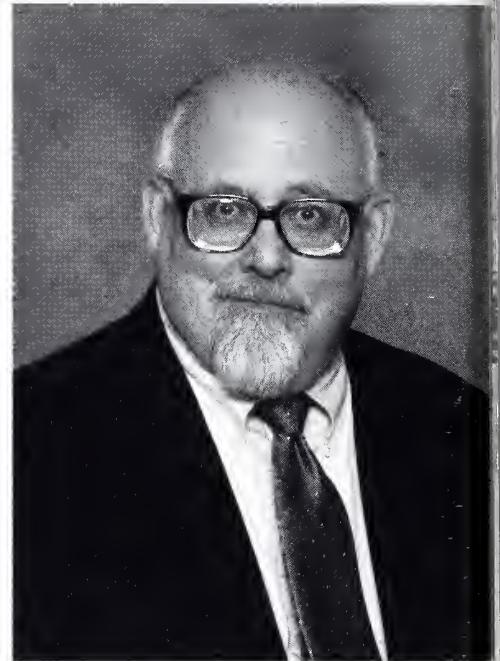

Once a Packers fan, always a Packers fan!

Here is Dr. Becker in 1962, the year he graduated from Concordia.

This year's yearbook is fondly dedicated to Dr. Peter Becker. Dr. Becker first entered Concordia's doors in 1959 as a student. By the time he graduated he was involved in the Pillars as editor, the Spectator, Concordia Players (the forerunner of A.C.T.), Alpha Sigma Phi (a honorary athletic social organization), the tennis team as manager, and student activities. He left after graduation to study for his Master's degree and Doctorate at Northwestern University. He returned as a faculty member in 1966, and faithfully served as a Professor of Sociology and the Assistant Provost for Research and Evaluation. Students fondly recall his humor and love for what he taught. His faith shone forth in all that he did, and he will be sorely missed. Dr. Becker is survived by his wife Elizabeth and his son Pete, who both work here at Concordia, his daughter Mary, and five grandchildren. Dr. Becker embodied the motto of the Concordia Teacher: Competent, Caring, and Serving. Well Done, Good and Faithful Servant.

The 1961-62 Pillars Staff: Peter Becker, the Editor-in-Chief is standing in the back.

ASK

And it shall be given to you

Seek

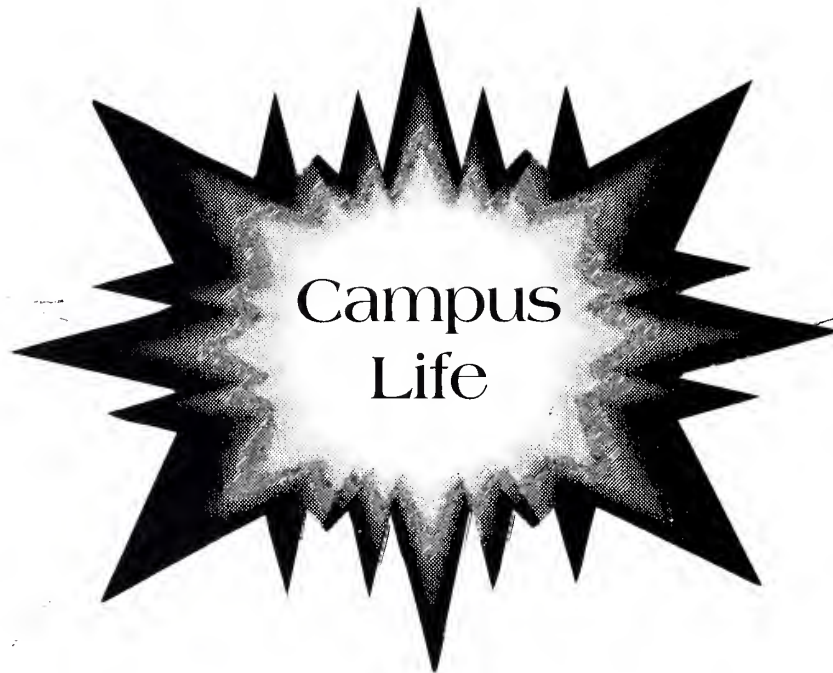

And you will find

Knock

And it will be given to you

This year's theme is ask, seek and knock. This phrase works not only for our faith, but for our learning here at Concordia. We must ask, seek and knock on the door of opportunity to achieve all that we can. It is also appropriate because in our faith life, although we are given our salvation through grace, we must ask for that salvation. Jesus says this passage to his disciples, and it is as true today as it was then.

Knock...

And the Door Shall be Opened

"Hi, I'm Bill."

Tim with his new haircut.

"Laughter is the brush that sweeps away the cobwebs of the heart." Surely there were no cobwebs on Concordia's campus during O-Week '98. This year's theme was "Living in God's Eyes," and it was a week filled with fun, new friends, frisbees, cook-outs and kissing! The energy filled staffers in their colorful outfits started the week off by moving new students into their freshly painted, newly carpeted dorm rooms. The staffers went on to perform shows and entertain new students throughout the week and showed us how we can "Live in God's Eyes" and have a good time. The memories brought to us by O-Week '98 are ones that will last a lifetime. There's just something about Concordia!

"Time can't take away anything that has already been given: Your treasures from days gone by are treasures still; your most precious memories will always be. We learn, as we go along, that life is not one big, beautiful jewel we can hold- or lose- in our hands. Each one of us is an hourglass. And in the course of our lives, we get to keep the diamonds that come our way among the passing sands."

Alone Together

The first play of the 1998-99 season was "Alone Together" directed by Julie Hinz. It is a humorous look at what happens when the children grow-up and move away and the "grown-ups" can be ALONE TOGETHER.

George and Helena finally send their youngest son, Keith, off to college. However, before they can celebrate their empty nest, Michael, their eldest son, moves back home after teaching at MIT. Shortly there after, Elliot moves back because he has a fight with his wife. Then Janie comes to live there because Keith tells her that since her college housing form did not get processed, she can sleep in his room. Helena doesn't react well to the unexpected visitors and she leaves. Keith comes back home because he is homesick. Helena pulls herself back together and comes back. Janie gets tired of Elliott's attempts to seduce her and leaves. Elliott leaves to make up with his wife. After a very long talk with Mom & Dad, Michael finally leaves and George and Helena are once again ALONE TOGETHER.

Kindertransport

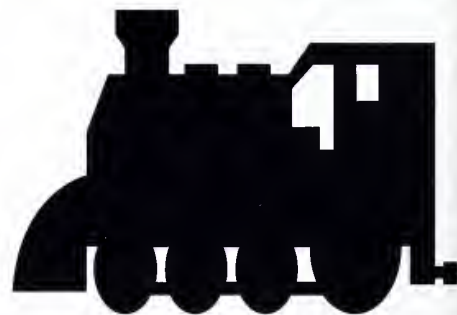

In November of 1938, after Kristallnacht, Jewish German parents realized that their children may no longer be safe in Germany. They sent 10,000 children ages 3-17 alone on trains and boats to England, where they would be safe. Eighty percent of those children never saw their parents again. The fall play of 1998 looked at Evelyn, a fifty-year-old woman who had been sent on the trains as a child. She had suppressed the memories successfully until her daughter found evidence of her past in the attic. This changes the lives of Evelyn, her daughter Faith, and Lil, her English mother, completely, as Evelyn remembers Eva, the child she was, and Helga, her true mother. All of the play is overshadowed by the figure of the Ratcatcher, an ominous storybook character come to life.

Two men meet. They embrace, as they are old friends. Then they wait. As they wait, they converse with each other and with people passing by. But they do not leave. For they must wait for Godot. He has promised to come, and so they wait. When the day ends, and Godot sends a message that he could not make it, they separate for the night, and then meet the next day again, to wait for Godot.

Does this sound absurd to you? Good! Waiting for Godot is considered one of the best written absurdist theater plays. It was first performed in 1953 by Samuel Beckett. Most people don't really know what the theater of the absurd is. That's probably because the phrase wasn't coined until 1961, and most writers who were lumped into Absurdist theater did not want to be placed in any group. Usually the plays are about the futility of humanity, and how nothing really has a purpose. Reflecting that, the writers of these plays do not seem to really have a meaning, but rather their entire play is meant as a metaphor, to be looked at as the entire picture. You don't understand? Well, just wait, it'll come to you. Are you waiting?

I'M ALL EARS! The Boat (Nikki Mecum), and Train (Beth Guillermo) make fun of the Velveteen Rabbit.

YOU'RE NOT AFRAID OF ME! Younger Steve (Jose Diaz) makes friends with the now real Velveteen Rabbit (Elizabeth Steffens).

The Velveteen Rabbit

TELL ME A STORY! Ben (James Martel) tells his little brother a bedtime story.

THIS PLAY IS ABOUT ME Older Steve (Paul Federwitz) begins the play.

YOU KNOW MY NAME! The Fairy of Toy Magic (Michelle Blume) comes to make the Velveteen Rabbit real.

I HAD THESE GREAT TOYS... Younger Steve plays in his room with the boat, the Velveteen Rabbit, and the Rocking Horse (Brian Watson).

This play is about me...It's very strange and wonderful (and magical, you said magical!)... What's the national rabbit dance? (The Bunny Hop, of course!)

This year's children's theater was the Velveteen Rabbit, a heartwarming story about a boy, and the stuffed rabbit that to him, was as real as life. The audience learns of their adventures, that in his imagination took them all over the world. The story was told by the boy, years later, as he remembered his childhood. However, the story went beyond what even Older Steve knew, as the audience found out what happened to that beloved toy, when it wasn't destroyed like he thought it was.

The theme of Velveteen Rabbit is that you can love others only after you love yourself, and that you are special just the way you are made.

Children's Theater runs for 8 weeks usually with two shows a week, and two weekends. This year the show was performed for more than 16,000 people in 13 shows.

MORE HOT PIES! The company enjoys some fresh meat pies made from Sweeney's victims.

NO NEED TO WORRY Mrs. Lovett (Bernadine Holland) tries to convince Tobias Ragg (Carrie Claus) that Sweeney Todd need not be feared.

ALMS, ALMS! The Beggar Woman (Krista Wille) begs for her supper from Mrs. Lovett.

A DANGEROUS SUGGESTION
The Beadle (Mitch Van Zant) suggests that Judge Turpin (Jeremy Swem) visit Sweeney Todd for a shave.

THESE ARE MY FRIENDS! Sweeney (Jason Stevens) sings to his razor and companion in crime as Mrs. Lovett watches longingly.

KISS ME! Anthony Hope (William McLane) persuades Johanna (Marie Koko) to marry him.

A bloody razor shines in the darkness; the instrument of revenge used by Sweeney Todd against those who had destroyed his life. He reopens his barber shop above Mrs. Lovett's pie shop 15 years after being exiled by Judge Turpin. He returns to find his wife presumed dead and his daughter a virtual prisoner of the judge. While Sweeney's diabolical plot is unfolding, the young sailor, Anthony Hope, is discovering and falling in love with Johanna, Sweeney's daughter. After his first failed attempt on the judge's life, Sweeney loses what sanity he had left and begins an unmerciful killing of any who come for a shave. After discovering that he has murdered his wife, Sweeney's killing streak is halted by the act of Tobias Ragg.

This year a new program was established in the Artists of Concordia Theater. This new program was F.S.E.T. A chance for freshmen students interested in theater to get their feet wet, and show their talent to Concordia. They met one night a week the entire first semester; having workshops on the different technical aspects of theater, learning where everything is stored on campus and the names of the storage areas (the hole, the pit, the box...). In the middle of all of this, they were also working on fifteen different scenes that they presented to Concordia at the end of the first semester. The twenty-two talented individuals entertained the audience, and showed how wonderful the next four years of theater at Concordia are going to be.

Sister Mary Ignatius Explains it All for You

Directed by Trey Korte, the first One-Act of the year was a humorous look at religious education. Sister Mary Ignatius is the second grade teacher at Our Lady of Perpetual Sorrow school. It is just a normal day of school until four former students come back for revenge on Sister Mary. The play, although very funny, asks the audience to look more closely at several issues of today's society, and the church's reaction to those issues.

Ferris Wheel

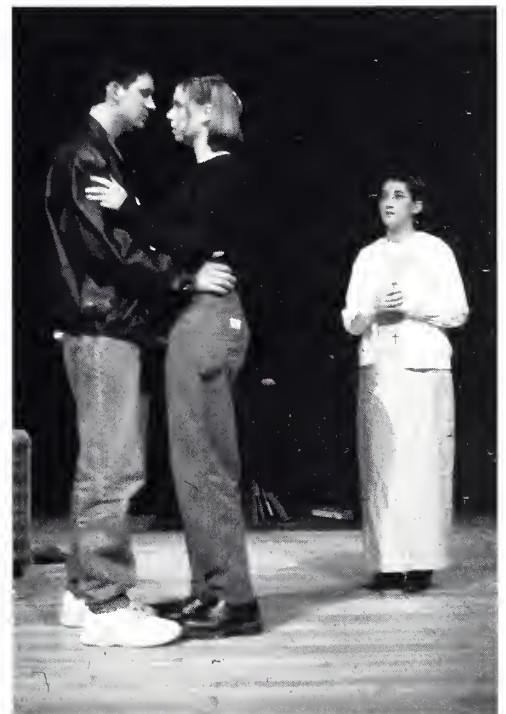

Why, if you are afraid of heights, are you sitting on a Ferris Wheel? That is what John asks Dorie when he is up sharing a ride with her on her yearly Ferris Wheel ride. Her answer? That which does not kill you makes you stronger. However, this year, the ride is worse for Dorie than ever. The ride breaks when they are on the very top, and that's when the fun begins. Two very different people who react in very different ways to trouble. What would you do? Directed by Jodi Smith

When a cheating husband brings his girlfriend home, his wife must face her anger and pain. This is the premise of Four Walls, a one-act directed by Jodi Smith. Rose, a 47-year-old housewife always ignored her 23-year-old husband's philandering. After he brings home his newest girlfriend though, she's had enough. When he comes home shot one night, she simply does... nothing. A look at what happens when life does not turn out the way it should, and a home turns into a prison of four walls.

A man and his girlfriend meet on a bridge. They have a suicide pact between them, but when the time comes for the man to jump off the bridge, he cannot; his girlfriend dies without him. So now, on the anniversary of her death, he returns to the bridge, not to kill himself, but to bring the darkness of the soul out of the people he meets until they are encouraged to join his beloved. Directed by William McLane, Eris takes a close look at the devastation that will come from following false idols, and the result of revenge.

Yellow Boat

The Yellow Boat was the final play for the 1999 ACT season. The story line starts when young Benjamin Saar is born, his parents know something is wrong. Doctors discovered he was born with hemophilia. So he often went to the hospital to have blood transfusions. Tragically, he is infected with HIV during one of those transfusions. The play was written by Benjamin's father, David Saar, as what he feels was going on in Benjamin's mind. The play is about how he positively deals with his affliction through his pictures and how he interacts with many of the people he encounters in everyday life: his mom and dad, Eddie (his best friend), Joy (the child specialist at the children's hospital), and many other doctors. Benjamin died when he was just ten years old. Although the play has a very sad ending, it isn't meant to be that way. Rather it is an affirmation of a child's life and his love for that life. Chris Giebel, who played Eddie said that, "it was a lot of fun. We had a great cast and working with Rachel Jamieson was a great experience. I wish all people could see things the way that Benjamin did and were as positive through all the troubles that can plague one's life."

The Student Chapter of the Music Educators National Conference (MENC) consists of a group of individuals dedicated to the highest standards of excellence in music education in both public and parochial schools. Chapter members are provided opportunities to attend numerous workshops, including the I.M.E.A. state convention. In addition, all members receive the Music Educators Journal on a monthly basis from the national organization. The advisor for the group is Jean Harrison. (From the Music Department booklet.)

This year the Wind Symphony had an exciting year. From playing at major concert halls in Milwaukee and Lincoln, recording its 5th CD, and playing some challenging repertoire, there was always something going on. Touring took the group through several states, including: Illinois, Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa, Nebraska, Oklahoma, Texas, and Arkansas. We also had the pleasure of having Prof. Thomen join us in the spring, helping us out with the "Deathtree" and "My Jesus, Oh What Anguish." Featured soloist senior Elizabeth Schnake wowed audiences with her rendition of Gershwyn's RHAPSODY IN BLUE. All in all, it was fun-filled year serving God through our music.

Jazz Band

No Picture Available

The Jazz Band consists of both students, faculty, and staff who enjoy playing jazz music. The group performs several concerts a year both on and off campus. They often have guest performers from the world of jazz. They practice weekly and are conducted by Kirk Garrison.

University Band

The University band is comprised of people from the campus and community who are selected by audition. They performed several concerts this year including the Pillars Under the Stars in front of Addison Hall during Homecoming Weekend. They also had Christmas and spring concerts in conjunction with the University Chorus. The University Band practices weekly and they are conducted by Dr. Richard Fischer.

Handbells

This year marked the reutrn of the handbell choir of Concordia University. They were stronger than ever, with 2 full choirs of 3-4 octaves. They played two concerts of their own, joined the Kapelle for the Service of Lessons & Carols, and played for the Spring Music Festival. The music was mostly sacred, and also it gave students an opportunity to arrange their own pieces for the choir. Members included: Shelli Troike, Rebecca Low, Nadine DuBois, Emily Rempfer, Lisa Rohlwing, Amanda Meyers, Amy Geller, Serena Jones, Krista Wille, Kathryn Kuerschner, Sarah Wiseley, Jaimie Christian, Scott Ferguson, Elizabeth Springborn, Mark Birkholz, Gwen Honebrink, Emily Sellke, Kirsten Weimer, Karen Stone, Amanda Gillespie.

Festival Chorus

No Picture Available

The Festival Chorus is a choir for both the campus and the community. Also, all members of the Kapelle are automatically members of the Festival Chorus. The group meets once a week for practice. They prepare major works for chorus and orchestra. All this practice culminates into two concerts during the school year. The group is conducted by Kurt Amolsh. The members this year included Judith Ann Alexander, Anna Andrews-Smith, Virginia Benson, Kelli Borchelt, Izabella Brugioni, Barbara Carlson, Caroline Christian, Melanie Christian, Carol Clover, Carole Cosimano, Sarah Dimiceli, Julia Doloszycki, Christine Ebert, Rita Ericksen, Olinda Fink, Kristin Flanders, Jackie Good, Lynne Hurdle, Rebecca Jalas, Eileen Johnson, Ruth Marie Kampia, Ann Koss, Priscilla Metz, Kathryn Petersen, Valerie Toth, Myra Vonderhaar, Carrie Albrecht, Mary Arnier, Nancy Arnier, Diane Bartolozzi, Christine Dame, Darlene Donarski, Jean Fitzpatrick, Marilyn Gotsch, Julie Hadler, Barbara Henry, Michelle Kaput, Maedra Kellman, Marcia Lucey, Sharon Minarik, Marilyn Moist, Clar Lyn Morris, Cynthia Myers, Jacqueline Nootens, Colleen Ortega, Carol Proudfit, Karen Rohde, Jacqueline Schuknecht, Helena Stancikas, Cynthia Stocker, Dana Sussman, Cheryl Tartakoff, Naomi Winslow, Milton Alex, Ken Benson, Madison Bolt, Carolyn Geary, Erik Hollander, Bonnie Intoccia, Marcy Kubat, Mark Meier, William Ortega, Geoffrey Roupas, Richard Ball, Richard Bertucco, Walter Blickle, Lee Brooke, Terry Bucher, Gene Carlson, Einar Ericksen, Keith Ertner, Mike Hadler, Mike Intoccia, Al Pedersen, Bruce Perryman, Norman Rodger, James Rostenberg, Mark Tredray, Tom Vonderhaar

University Chorus

University Chorus is designed for students who enjoy singing, but don't have a lot of extra time. The group meets once a week to practice their selections. The group is known for singing fun, spirited songs. They have three main concerts during the year. The first two are in conjunction with the University band concerts. One concert is held during the Christmas season and the second is held in the spring. Their third performance is at the University's Spring Music Festival where they perform a couple of songs. Among the members of the group are Jessica Lukas, Krista Wille, Susan Hoelz, Jenna Russell, Nikol Ziegelbein, Thanh Trieu, James Wysocki, Timothy Degan, Melvin Beversdorf, Scott Ferguson, Bob Green. The group is conducted by Willard Thomen.

Chapel Choir

No Picture

Available

The Chapel Choir is a group whose sole purpose is to enhance the campus' worship service. They usually sing the psalm, a hymn, and other parts of the liturgy. They perform in chapel every few weeks. The group is likened to that of a church choir. The choir rehearsed twice a week and they are directed by Dr. Steven Wenthe.

Chamber Choir

No Picture

Available

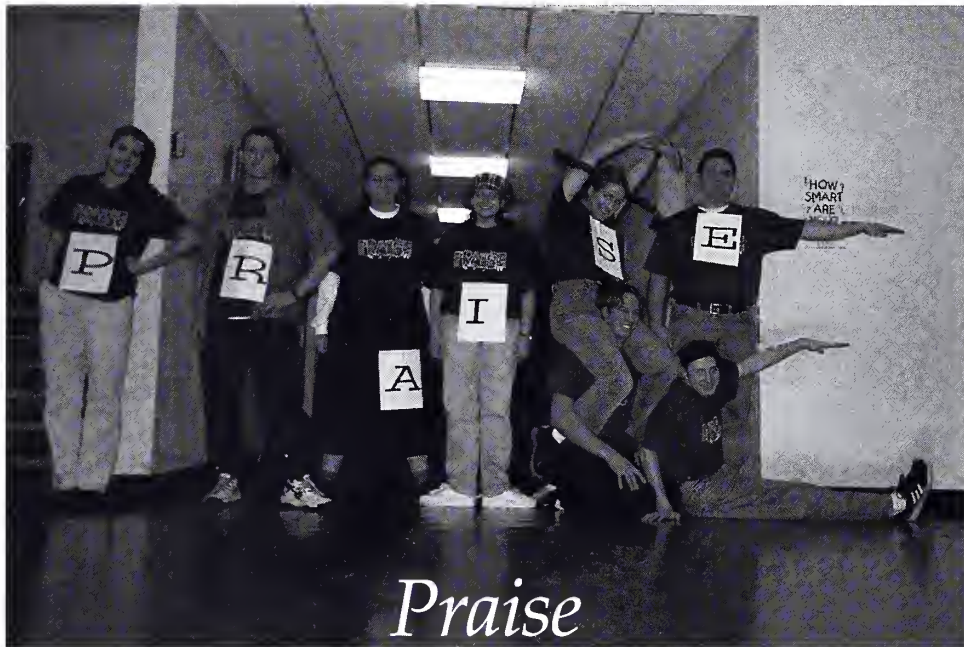

The Chamber Choir's membership comes from within the Kapelle. This 12-member group sings music from the most difficult repertoire. They perform a section of most Kapelle concerts. The Chamber Choir practices once a week and they are directed by Dr. Kurt Amolsch. This year the members were Amanda Jirovec, Michelle Waterfall, Becky Fockel, Paige Craig, Kim Bueltmann, Sarah Knosher, Phil Zielinski, Mike Salemink, Matt Brackman, Brendan Hemmerle, Aaron Chamberlain, Paul Saeger.

Gospel Choir

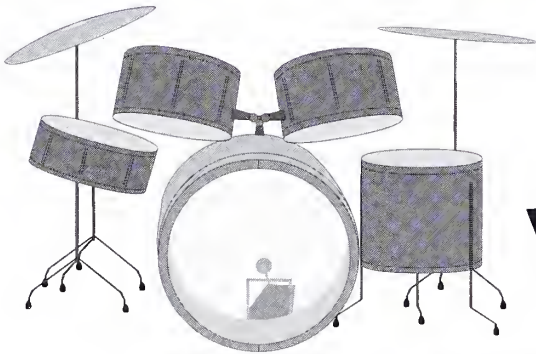

The Gospel Choir consists of students, faculty, and staff. They focus mainly on different types of Christian, African-American music. The way this group blends their voices is truly unbelievable. They held a few concerts during the year and they also perform at chapel occasionally. The group practices weekly and they are conducted by Ernest Taylor. This year the members included: Melissa Owens, Carol Gilbert, Elissa Stubbs, Magan Flesch, Jennifer Kunz, Carrie Scianna, Kurt Rohlwing, Lisa Rohlwing, Kristen Wilkins, Calvin Randolph, Sidney Davis, Lance Jones, Mike Lockett, Anna Schroeder, Jennifer Young, Chikae Ishihara, Angela Chaney, Kennea McGhee.

Concordia Youth Ministry teams or C.Y.M. teams are a great way of showing your faith. The different teams go to area churches and schools to hold lock-ins. The team members lead the kids in bible studies, skits, and song. This year there were a total of nine teams. (The leaders of the teams are signified by an * next to their name.) The C.Y.M. coordinator this year was Julie Goecker and we would like to thank her for the great job that she did this year.

West Suburban College of Nursing

One of the events for West Sub. students is an annual Christmas party.

I wonder if these nursing students were good this year.
Smile! The year is almost over!

Look at the friends we have made at West Sub.

Don't we look cute.

How do we look in our fabulous nursing uniforms?

Aaron Hallien and Scott Ferguson show us what it takes to be Calvin Klein models.

Charlie T. Cougar takes a rest during the Homecoming game to talk with some fellow fans.

It is Jon Held and Michelle Waterfall- no explanation needed.

These girls seem to be taking this game very seriously.

This is what college is all about-hanging out with friends.

Poor Kurt! He seems to be all tuckered out after the Homecoming dance.

whites.

These students enjoyed themselves on the annual Spiritual Life Retreat sponsored by the Spiritual Life Office. This year the retreat was held at the end of March. The group reports that it was a weekend filled with fun, fellowship, and, above all, the Gospel. Those who attended include: (1st row, l to r) Elizabeth Drevlow, Elizabeth Caverner, Jason Christ, Paige Craig, Heather McDaniel (2nd row) Kim Bueltmann, Gloria Roggow, Kelli Borchelt, Mariam Bickel, Melissa Owens, Ruth Marie Kampia (3rd row) Genevieve Tracy, Lauren Dorr, Krissy Grunden, Nathan Wendorf, Tim Stair, Mark Sattler (4th row) Philip Henning, Matt Leighty, Abbie Lessner, Seth Hemme, Campus Pastor Steve Smith

These deaconess students found out where their internships would be at a ceremony near the end of the year. (l to r) Kelly Hardt, Gretchen Krueger, Donna Vogt, Jennifer Wendling

1999 Quiz Bowl Champions- Hippos

(l to r) Scott Ferguson,
Kevin Crowder, Jon Held,
Danielle Tetzler

The Quiz Bowl is something that was brought back to campus this year by Academic Life Officer Matt Leighty. The single elimination tournament took place over two weekends in March. There were a total of fifteen teams with four members per team. The contestants were asked academic questions by a moderator. They received points for answering the questions correctly. The team with the most points at the end, won. We can't wait until next year's tournament.

Bible Studies are a very valuable experience here at Concordia. There are two different sessions of Bible Studies throughout the year, one for each semester. Campus Pastor Steve Smith and Spiritual Life Officer Nathan Wendorf interview perspective Bible Study leaders for each session. The groups cover diverse topics, ranging from studying books of the Bible to how Christians can put their faith into practice.

The O-Staff sings a little ditty at one of the many social gatherings during O-Week.

Jason Hoyt and Carrie Jackson- running fools!

The Cougars' cross-country team warming up behind Mary-Martha.

Ingrid's Infatuations

The 550's get into the Christmas spirit.

Pat Sims keeps focused against Rockford.

Just look at all the fun we are having on our Honors class field trip.

Can we look any goofier? These guys must be a product of a low standard admissions policy.

The men's tennis team listens carefully to Coach Faz.

EX-COMM

Spiritual Life Officer Nathan Wendorf and his girlfriend, O-Week staffer Krissy Grunden take a break while moving new students in .

Multicultural Awareness Coordinator Heidi Weirich and Spiritual Outreach Officer Lauren Dorr give big smiles to the camera.

These Ex-Comm officers are getting ready to do a skit and to introduce themselves to the new freshmen and transfers during O-Week.

Pillars

No Picture Available

Along with the Spectator, the Pillars also used the new negative scanner. Almost every page of this book was produced with both the flatbed and the negative scanner. Because of these it was much easier to borrow pictures from other students because the pictures would now be returned promptly. We would like to thank everybody who donated their personal pictures to be used in this edition of the Pillars. The Pillars were led for the third year in a row by Co-Editors-in-Chief Krista Wille and Emma Theel. The staff members included Julia Langfelder, Chris Giebel, Lisa Rocans, Hywania Thompson, Daniel Wiederkehr, Alan Riggs, and Andy Pederson.

Photo Lab

This year's Photo Lab coordinators were: Sarah Haupt- Pillars and Ben Luedtke- Spectator.

Spectator

Co-Copy Editor and Correspondent Alicia Wilkie works on next week's lead story in the computer lab.

This year's Specy staff was run by sophomore Matt Lancaster as Editor-in-Chief and junior Paul Federwitz as Assistant Editor. The Spectator made leaps and bounds in the technology department this year. Besides the flatbed scanner that was purchased last year, they also acquired a negative scanner. Both of these items (plus the great staff) helped to make this year's Specys the best ever. The staff put out a few special issues this year including ones for O-Week, Homecoming, Christmas, and Graduation. Besides these issues, the students produced a brand new Spectator every other week. Some of the hard-working Section Editors this year included: Kevin Crowder- News; Chris Gillespie- A& E; Tressa Weyer & Hywania Thompson- Features; Greyson Grenz- Sports; Ben Luedtke- Photos; Alicia Wilkie, Amanda Hurt, & Joan Cramer- Copy. A few of the students who contributed to the Spectator regularly are Nicole Valentino, Alison Grube, Michal Mischnick, Lindsay Pratt, Nadine DuBois, and Mark Birkholz.

Editor-in-Chief Matt Lancaster calls Security as Assistant Editor Paul Federwitz tries to run away with some "valuable" Specy equipment.

FOOTBALL '98

Guard Brian Davies parts the sea of defenders allowing running back Brandon Terrell to get the first down for the Cougars.

Every year brings with it new challenges and triumphs. The 1998 Cougars found that this was the case. The new season brought with it not only exciting games but a crew of new Cougars to join the fight. With a strong recruiting class the Cougar army doubled in size. This not only provided the team with extra bodies at practice but also motivation to work harder. Under the strong leadership of the seniors, the Cougars came together to show that they belonged.

"You can't live your life by a scoreboard" is a phrase that summed up some of the frustration of the Cougars this past season. The team accomplished more and set more records than any team in a long while, but the frustration over some close losses weighed heavily on the Cougar's minds. Losing by a close margin of points, aside from the frustration, gives a positive light for the future. There is no one that the Cougars fear in 1999, most of the teams barely escaped this season from what is set to explode next season.

The team grew athletically as well as cohesively due to the strong hand of the seniors. Led by All-American nominees, senior Justin Thiel and junior Jeff Hawkins and all conference seniors Rob Wellen and Duane Bowen, the young Cougars found the solid leadership and values that will lead them to be champions.

The Cougar "D" puts a quick end to this play on their home turf.

The Cougars took a rebuilding year in 1998 and made the most of it. After losing two seniors (out of six players in 1997, the Cougars brought in five freshman and one transfer. The team consisted of depth- everyone contributed in a strong way.

Freshman Krista Klaus led the team with a 17-4 record for an .810 winning percentage. Following Krista with a winning percentage of .727 was fellow freshman Jill Bielke. Bielke teamed with senior Nancy Lloyd for a 16-4 record as 1st doubles.

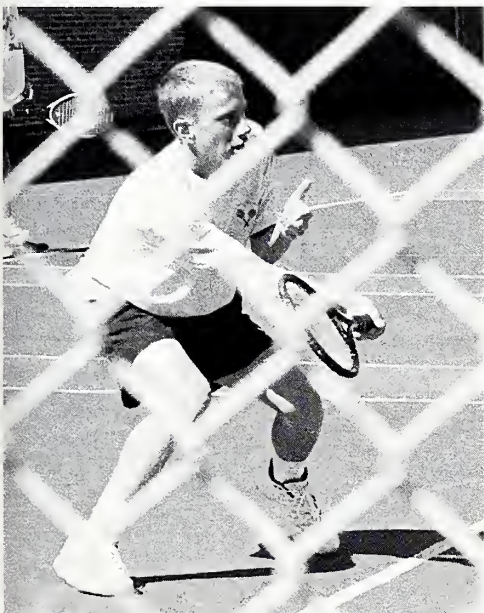

The team competed well all year long. They finished with a record of 10-5, including a 3-1 conference record. At the Illinois College Tournament, the Cougars finished in third place, only four points out of first place. At the conference tournament, held this year at Benedictine University, the Cougars took second place to Clarke College of Dubuque, Iowa. Taking Championships home for the Cougars were Jill Bielke, Amy Martinez, Ingrid Davies and Krista Klaus at first singles, fourth singles, and third doubles respectively. All others took second place at their respective flights.

With the Cougars only losing one senior to the 1998 season, look for a strong season to come in 1999. Depth and confidence are two strong points in any team-the Cougars tennis team has both.

SEND IT BACK. Jason Levitt returns the serve with precision.

The 1999 Concordia Men's Cougar Tennis team was both conference and conference tournament champions. Coach Faszholtz was named Coach of the Year by the other conference teams. Conference Co-Player of the Year, Greg Michael, led the team to the tying of a school record of 13 team wins. Coach Faszholtz summed up the season by saying, "They played consistent tennis. They continued to improve and did not peak until the end of the season."

The Lady Cougars started out the year with only seven returning players, a new head coach, and seven new players. We were blessed with all this new talent and coaching ability that was coming into our program. The Lady Cougars were led by captains, Erin Block and Nikki Baldwin, and also senior Gail Anger. Our season may sound short, only two months, but we did get in around 45 games. With each team we played a doubleheader. The Lady Cougars also played in a few tournaments this year in Tennessee and Rock Island. Throughout the season we had games with great defense or great offense, but it seemed not to happen in the same game. Overall we had a great season, good memories, awesome friends, and had fun!

After a long day of playing ball in a Tennessee tournament, we finally get to relax.

CROSS-COUNTRY

Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi was founded on March 8, 1911, at the University of Illinois. It was incorporated June 8, 1911. The Pi Psi Chapter was installed on November 7, 1984 at Concordia University. This year, Kappa Delta Pi, Pi Psi Chapter has had various programs and fundraisers such as a presentation by student teachers followed with a question and answer session, reading to children in local schools, donating funds to the CLIC library in order to purchase books and instructional materials, and the hosting of a book fair.

MISSION

Kappa Delta Pi, an International Honor Society in Education, is dedicated to scholarship and excellence in education. The Society, as a community of scholars, is dedicated to worthy ideals:

- Recognizes scholarship and excellence in education.
- Promotes the development and dissemination of worthy educational ideals and practices.
- Enhances the continuous professional growth and leadership of its diverse membership.
- Fosters inquiry and reflection on significant educational issues.
- Maintains a high degree of professional fellowship.

Officers this year included
Amanda Slobedecki, Alicia
Smith, Jennifer Galante,
Carrie Scianna, and Stephanie Craven.

Graduation

Dear Kimberly,
"You came a long way baby!"
 God is good, God is grace, God directed you and put you in your place. A place to continue to succeed and help yourself and others' needs. "Congratulations on a job well done!" It's a joy and a pleasure to have you for my daughter. God is the light and he has surely shone on you and we are so proud. "God Bless you Always."

Love,
 Mom, Dad, Grandma,
 Grandpa, & Godmother

Dear Kelly Firkus,
 21 years ago you were our "surprise package." We have loved you and been proud of you every day of your life, but never as much as today. Keep your great sense of humor, listen to your gut feelings, and always believe that when you keep your faith strong in God's will, you can trust him to take care of the rest.

 Mom and Dad

Dear Ryan-
 I thank and praise God that you are His child and mine!

Love Always,
 Mom

P.S. RYANMOM

Dear Kirsten,
 Bongiorno Principessa!
 Life is beautiful for all who know
 you. Congratulations! We love you!

Mom, Dad, & Jess

Dear Heather,
 Ever since you were a little girl you wanted to be a teacher. Now you have achieved your goal. Your love of teaching and children shines through everything you do. Every child should be lucky enough to have a teacher like you. We are so proud of you. Not only for what you have accomplished, but for the kind, caring, and loving woman you have become. We love you very much.

Love,
 Mom & Dad

James Wysocki as The Cat in the Hat from the one-act "An Evening of Seuss."

The dance team struts their stuff while performing at halftime of the Homecoming football game.

What a fish, Kim Bueltmann makes!

Dietrich's Ducks

Chandi Ziebarth and Natalie Cameron are waiting for their race to start.

John Hayley runs to first base after a powerful hit.

Demon Buckley is cramming in some last minute papers in the computer lab.

What a back hand!

Andy's Astronauts

The Bills are thinking that they are at the Oscars.

The friends we made in the 360's.

At CIT '99, Coach Faszholtz was presented with a plaque and lifetime passes for CIT. He has been involved with CIT for many years, as player, coach, and helper. He is retiring from Concordia this year.

The kissing game sure is a lot of fun!

Here are some Cougars waiting for the ball to be inbounded.

Angie Bardonner with a great back set during practice.

Mark's Meese

Are we a little hungry, girls?

O-Week's purpose is to have fun and make friends before classes start.

These players are hoping that the ball drops in the basket.

O-Staffers just waiting for some freshmen and transfers to help.

Bethany Jamieson, Kerstin Harris-Scranton, and Carrie Jackson look like they are having fun.

Bible studies are an integral part of life at Concordia.

Let's go COUGARS!

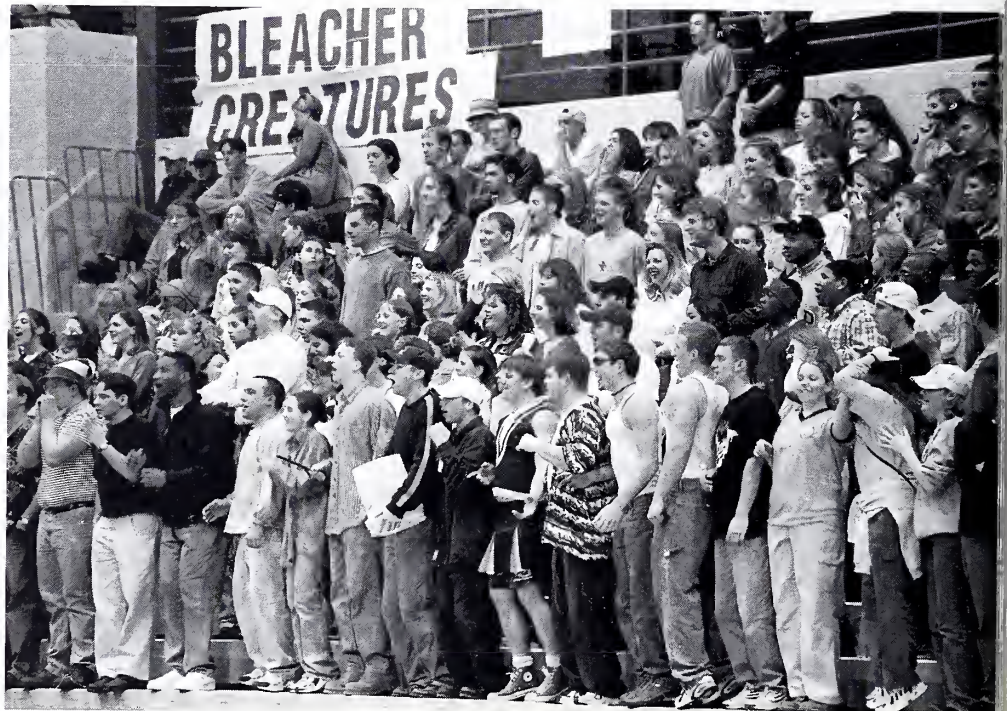

CURF's "bleacher creatures" came in numbers to support our teams at this year's CIT.

Held's Halibuts

Well, don't Brenda Schilling and Marcie Reid look like they're having fun!

The Old Testament in five minutes.

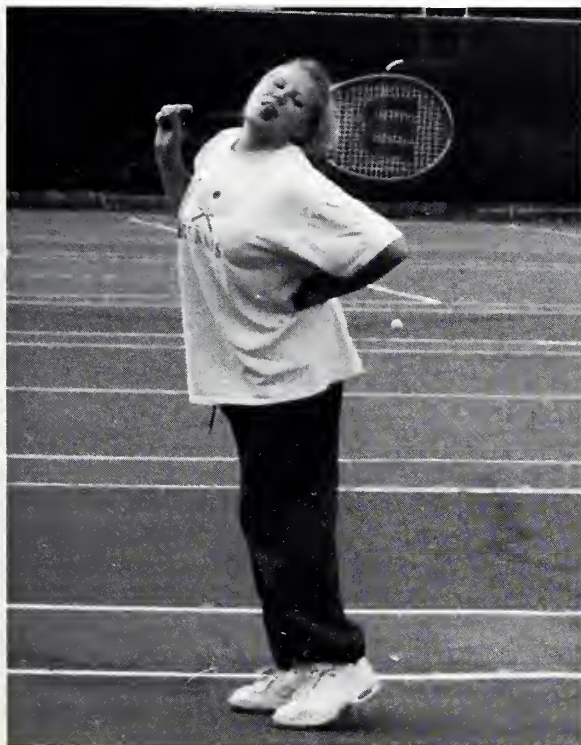

Up in a tree, where most of those wild kids belong.

Those seniors sure look mean, but I think that the juniors are up to the challenge.

What are these guys doing??

I guess we know what Ingrid Davies thinks of us.

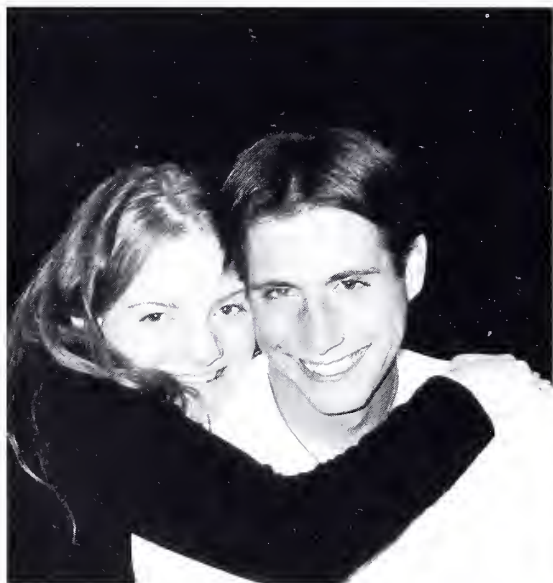

Look at that shot!

Rachel's Roadkill

Rachel Jamieson, Carrie Jackson, and Paige Craig at the Arties. Don't they look pretty.

What a cute couple!

Pat Sims is waiting for the throw.

Jen Stock, Rob Wellen, Mike Austin, Julia Langfelder, Staci Arnhot, Nathan Schiefer, Andy Pederson, Kurt Rohlwing and friends go out for some "real" food.

What a crowd at Homecoming to cheer on the Cougars!

This Cougar gets ready to pounce on the opponent.

Here are the O-staffers at the 50s breakfast. Doesn't this bring back fond memories?

What class is this for!!?

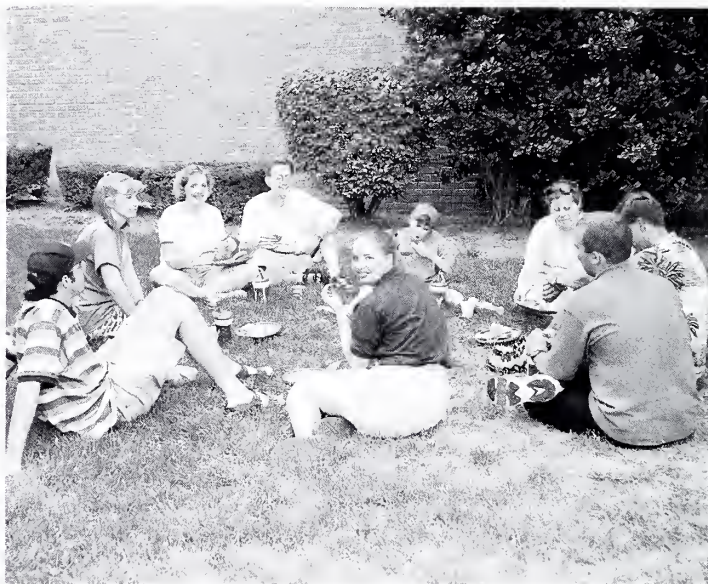

Here are some more staffers taking a break.
Don't these people ever work?

Now that's friendship!

A circle of friends at the frisbee picnic at the beginning of the year.

Kurt Rohlwing and Andy Pederson, what a great pair!

Adam King, Jason Henry, Nathan Schiefer, Rob Wellen, Charlie T. Cougar, Andy Pederson, and Brian Porter are having a ball at CIT!

Brian Porter waiting for the other team to try and get past him.

Our Cougar baseball team watching us go towards victory!

These nursing students are glad that the year is almost over.

Well, the time has come for me to say my farewells as editor of the Pillars. It has certainly been an interesting 3 years! I am stepping down to let someone else learn the ropes to take over when Emma graduates.

Emma~ you deserve a huge round of applause. For the past three years, you have kept me from smashing the computers, killing people, or killing myself! You have done a lion's share of work-coming in the summer to finish the book, taking care of the little details that I know nothing about. Thank you.

Thanks also to Chris Giebel, without whom big parts of this book wouldn't have happened. I owe you!

Being involved in Yearbook for 6 out of 8 years of high school and college has made me learn a great deal about myself. I shall miss it a great deal.

So Concordia~ here is my final work to you. Think what you will, but know this: For all of it's flaws, it is a work of pride. I hope that you can sense that from cover to cover. God Bless you all.

Krista Wille

I want to thank Marisa Jeffers and Mike Hackelman for their support, Paul Federwitz and Matt Lancaster for all of their help in the office, Sarah Haupt and Ben Luedtke for the pictures, and everyone who helped to make this book possible.

But most of all, I want to thank Krista. I can't believe that we have made it through three long years of working together and we are still talking to each other. I could never have made it through these years without you. I do not know what I am going to do next year without you always being there. Thank you for everything.

To the Concordia community- I hope you enjoy this book as much as we enjoyed putting it together.

Emma Theel

P.S. Always remember, ""If we wanted the Pillars to be perfect, we would have asked you to be on the staff.""
